MESSAGE FROM PRINCIPAL & HEAD OF SCHOOL

Dear Alumni, School Families and Friends of Roanoke Catholic,

Each year at graduation, we recognize four seniors whose academic excellence and outstanding character deserve special merit, proclaiming them members of the "Celtic Cross" as they go forth to represent the future of our community and culture.

But as we proclaim our future, it is just as important to reflect on our past and take a minute to recognize and give thanks to the folks who have demonstrated their love and devotion to our school community. Over the last year, Roanoke Catholic lost four incredible people who lived their lives in service to our church, their families and friends and our beloved school.

Indeed, they formed their own Celtic Cross.

Christian Hoeser, Class of '44, passed away August 14, 2017. A lifelong Celtic, he volunteered as Roanoke Catholic's first football coach in the 1960s. Until the morning of his death, Mr. Hoeser faithfully attended Mass every day, and generously gave of his time and treasure to our school and many other Catholic causes. This summer we learned that he left Roanoke Catholic an incredibly generous bequest that will inspire our institution for years to come.

In November, we lost Peggy Ann Russell Saul, Class of '52, who witnessed the birth of Roanoke Catholic as a student when St. Andrew's and Our Lady of Nazareth schools merged. Her senior year she helped lead the Celtics to its first state championship as a member of the girls basketball team. She too is leaving a legacy gift to Roanoke Catholic.

As a transplant to Roanoke to work for Roanoke Steel, Eugene Francis Brady, Sr., didn't attend Roanoke Catholic, but his five children and many of his grandchildren did. Each year he generously supported our school, as recently as a month before his death on April 11 at the age of 95.

Most recently, on June 15 our oldest living alumna, Dorothy "Dot" Meador, Class of '35, passed away at the age of 99. She too faithfully gave to Roanoke Catholic — gifts that included her daughter, Karen Mabry, Class of '67, who also served as principal from 1987 to 2002.

These four individuals are some of the most treasured friends of Roanoke Catholic. Their time on campus, in a variety of roles, provided great history lessons for our staff and students. As I recall conversations with Chris, Gene and Dot in recent years, there were so many fond memories they were able to share with me. Watching videos with Chris and Gene from their reenactments on some commercials we ran in 2005-2006 brought smiles to their faces and mine. Talking with Dot at our 125th anniversary and seeing her beam with pride as we recognized her love and commitment to Roanoke Catholic was a wonderful memory for all of us in attendance. Peggy's love of Roanoke Catholic is unmatched and her desire — along with Dot's, Chris' and Gene's — was to ensure our future remains as promising as it has for the last 129 years.

Blessings to all of you,

Patrick W. Patterson

RCS arts programs celebrated inspiring 2018-19 school year

Meanwhile, the RCS Celtic Singers and Women's Chorus journeyed in May to Hershey, Penn., where the Women's Chorus earned the highest rating of Superior at a festival competition (middle left). The trip also featured a performance at the Basilica of the National Shrine of the Immaculate Conception in Washington, D.C., the largest Catholic church in North America.

RCS Band not only grew in numbers of new students but also new instruments, thanks to a $30,000 donation by Dr. and Mrs. Robert White (below, middle). The parents of two Celtics alumnae, the Whites were recognized during the Choir & Band Spring Concert along with Sue Rowe of Melody Haven, who coordinated discount purchasing of the instruments and donated some items too.

Eleven RCS art students spent the 2018-19 school year planning and designing a 5' by 10' mural, "Angelus Stella," that now adorns the Oliver W. Hill Justice Center, the public area of the Roanoke City Courthouse. Latin for "Star Angel," "Angelus Stella" is the loving presence that the students imagine watching over the "Star City" of Roanoke. Pictured here with the students (from left): General District Judge Tom Roe, Juvenile & Domestic Relations Judge John Webe, Circuit Judge David Carson.

Left: RCS 11th grader Chisom Ezigbo won the 2019 Sister Cities International Young Artists Showcase that centered on the theme "Global Citizens: Resilient Communities." Her "Heal the World" artwork was judged best among the 37 entries in the high school art competition.

Scholarship Awards Dinner

In lieu of past Honors Day ceremonies, Roanoke Catholic began a new tradition on May 22, 2019, when more than 200 people gathered in the Gillespie Family Gymnasium to recognize our student scholarship winners and celebrate the generous supporters who make these scholarships possible.

Mary Gillespie Hardie Scholarships

The 2019 Mary Gillespie Hardie Scholarships were presented to lower schooler Zoe Classey and upper schooler El Amin Shareef for exemplifying the qualities of Mary Gillespie Hardie: intelligence and passion for learning, dignity and humility, great warmth and charity of spirit, and love of God. A graduate of Our Lady of Nazareth and a St. Andrews and Roanoke Catholic High parent, Mrs. Hardie believed that every child deserved a first-rate education, and instilled in her own children a love of learning and the satisfaction that comes from doing one's best.

Roanoke Catholic School thanks Robert Hardie '83 and Molly Hardie for their generous support of these scholarships that fund full tuition, books, uniforms, and cafeteria charges for a lower school and upper school student.

Dr. Robert L.A. Keeley Scholarships

Carmen Kuehler (upper school, pictured left), Alex Zaragoza (lower school) and Abby Algeier '19 (University of Mary Washington) each received a $1,000 Dr. Robert L.A. Keeley Scholarship for their strong work ethic and scholastic performance to the best of their indicated ability.

A 1938 graduate of Roanoke Catholic School, Dr. Keeley lived a life of commitment to helping others through his dedication and compassion; he demonstrated his gratitude for God's gifts and believed in the dignity of all people. An avid supporter of the arts and firm believer in Catholic education, Dr. Keeley maintained that the strength of a community's future is built upon the legacy of previous generations. Dr. Keeley and his wife of 65 years, Nina, instilled in their 15 children a love of learning and the satisfaction that comes from doing one's best. All Keeley children graduated RCS. Scholarship recipients recognize the value of an engaged citizen whose membership in the school community enriches it. These students are selfless, unassuming people, worthy of the admiration and respect of their peers.

A generous bequest from the estate of Carlton and Peggy Russell Saul '52 funded new bleachers for the Gillespie Family Gymnasium in May. A lifelong friend of Roanoke Catholic, Peggy Russell Saul witnessed its birth as a student when St. Andrew's and Our Lady of Nazareth schools merged. Her senior year, she was part of the Celtics girls' state championship basketball team.
